MADRE LATINA'S CONFERENCE 2015

MADRE LATINA ORGANIZATION

Madre Latina is a non-profit organization 501(c)3, comprised of Latina Women based in Waterbury, Connecticut. Madre Latina initially began as a social support group quickly turned into a philanthropic group. We offer many opportunities for our participants to connect through various networks, professional development workshops, health and wellness groups, mentoring activities, and more.

The 4th Annual Conference attracts individuals from diverse backgrounds, professionals, business leaders, students and homemakers looking to connect to the community, learn about resources, services, and programs the community has to offer them and their families.

The conference inspires and moves the partakers. "Latinas On Fire" will be an amazing celebration! For the last four years, the conference was able to touch lives, create lasting memories, and provide meaningful goals for Latina Women.

MADRE LATINA'S MISSION

Is to promote and encourage the advancement of Hispanic mothers by providing training, technical assistance and mentoring in order to pursue continuing education.

WHAT WE ARE DOING IN OUR COMMUNITY?

Madre Latina is connecting families to resources and contacts across the sector and beyond. We are educating families in topics that are important for them and their families. We are empowering Latinas, and developing leaders who will collectively make powerful changes.

YOELLIE IGLESIAS, MADRE LATINA EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

What an incredible journey it has been! I started Madre Latina with a vision of one conference, but I had no idea what it would eventually become. Together we have expanded our name in many cities in Connecticut. As I moved forward, I learned many lessons and I am moving as a wiser Latina reaching others to help my community.

My dream is use my voice to help empower women and aid families who struggle with many responsibilities. I want to thank my family, friends, collaborators and the community for your commitment, wisdom and support.

I know in my heart there is so much to accomplish. I want to invite you to join Madre Latina Inc. and together Educate, Connect and Empower our community.

Parent Inquiry Initiative

The Parent Inquiry Initiative, known as Parentii, is a growing network of individuals across Connecticut supporting community connections that ensure children's success in life. We are doing this by co-creating tools and sharing knowledge that support parents in making informed decisions.

Core Elements

GOAL:

Building parent capacity to drive community-specific actions

BY:

Parents helping parents get the information they need
Parents accessing resources & networks to support
Parents co-constructing & collaborating communities

GOAL:

Use parent leadership to transform systems

BY:

Transparency of processes
Value parent knowledge through co-production
Shared accountability

A foundation built to repair the very foundation of inequities
in health care

To improve the health of all Connecticut residents, we've diagnosed the most significant challenge – a health care system that doesn't always serve everyone equitably, especially people of color. So our focus is on expanding health equity by helping more people gain access to better care. And by pursuing real changes in the system. Proactively. Passionately. Responsibly.
